 - With Instructor for discourse on selected topics (From 7-8 AM on Tuesdays during semester)
2. Reading of assigned texts
3. Conferences with the instructor

COURSE REQUIREMENT

The “for credit” track, built upon the core lectures of the Institute is designed with your learning in mind and seeks to serve as a foundation upon which you can build your ministry.

- Approximately 1200 minutes of “access” to the instructor (Pastor) for collaboration upon topics of interest related to the coursework.
- Approximately 1500 minutes of reading from textbooks.

Reflection Papers: You will write a 550-650 word, single-spaced paper on your own to answer the questions provided based upon prior knowledge and reflection. The Bible and textbooks, and lecture notes, can help you formulate your answer. These are reflection papers meaning you will be graded on the formulation of the answer not graded against a correct answer.

- Be between 550-650 words
- Be your thoughts on the question. No footnotes.
- Written in Microsoft Word
- No title page (Include in the header YOUR NAME, and REFLECTION PAPER #)
- Single-spaced
- All Reflection Paper must be turned in before the due date and time

Critical Book Review: A 1,000-word critical review of Reeves, Delighting in the Trinity.

Theological Integration Paper: In order to qualify for an A, you must write a 5 page, double-spaced, answer to the question, “What is the reason and purpose of Evangelism?” The paper should be footnoted following the latest edition of Kate Turbian. An example of an acceptable integration paper is available upon request.

Evaluation/Grading: The following criteria will serve as the basis for grading:

1. Does the work illustrated a basic understanding of the concepts presented?
2. Does the students demonstrate clear and specific interaction with the course material (readings, lectures)?
3. Does the work reflect the student’s responsibility to prepare both academically and practically, i.e., has the student attempted to apply the material to his/her ministry setting or to the local church in general?
4. Does the work fulfill the assignment by the required date? Because ministry itself demands discipline, students are expected to meet established deadlines for submitted work.
5. Is the assignment written at a level appropriate for master’s level work? Does the work follow proper style?

COURSE GRADING

Course Grading Weight:

- Book Review – 100 points each
